THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT

Opened To-Day—William Court Gully Re-Elected Speaker of the House.

Very Large Attendance of Members on Both Sides of the House.

London, Aug. 12.—Preparations for the assembling of the House of Commons commenced early this morning. One member arrived at 5 o'clock in the morning and waited outside until the house was opened at 6 o'clock in order to have the distinction of being the first member to enter. Other members came in later, until by 10 a.m. 30 places were secured on the government side of the house, while only six seats had been taken on the opposition side.

Mr. E. G. Hatch, Conservative, who defeated Dr. Parkhurst, Liberal, in Gorton division of Lancashire, was the person who won distinction, being the first member to enter the House of Commons to-day. As generally expected, Mr. W. Court Gully was re-elected Speaker when the house assembled this afternoon without opposition. There was a large attendance of members. The government benches at an early hour were crowded to excess and many members were compelled to take refuge on the cross benches, which were not crowded early in the day. The Liberal and Irish benches were not crowded. Among the Irish members was T. Healy, who sat between T. P. O'Connor and Edward Blake. Also present on the Irish benches were T. D. Sullivan, John Dillon, Chas. K. D. Tanner, and other distinguished leaders of the Irish Nationalist party. Later in the day, however, the Liberal benches became crowded and when the proceedings commenced the Liberals showed up in strong force. At 2:10 p.m. the usher of the black rod appeared at the bar of the house and all talking was immediately hushed. The members were then formally requested to attend the House of Lords and hear the reading of the royal commission opening the new parliament. Thereupon Sir Reginald Francis Douce Palgrave, K. C. B., clerk of the House of Commons, followed by a number of members, proceeded to the House of Lords, where the royal commission was read. On their return Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour and Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt entered the house and were loudly cheered. Rt. Hon. J. Chamberlain, who followed, was received with loud cries. Rt. Hon. Sir John R. Mowbray, Bart., then moved the re-election of Mr. William Court Gully as Speaker of the House of Commons, and congratulated the house upon being able to open its proceedings with such an act and without a dissenting voice. The Liberal whip, Mr. Thomas Ellis, seconded the motion and complimented the Conservative leader, Mr. Balfour, on the course he had taken in this connection. Mr. Gully then thanked the house for the honor done him, which he said he did not think he owed to personal considerations but to the manner in which he hoped he had acquitted himself during his term of office. The Speaker was then conducted to the chair amid loud cheers from all parts of the house. Upon assuming the chair Mr. Gully again thanked the house for the honor done him and the mace was then laid upon the table. Mr. Balfour congratulated Mr. Gully upon his re-election in a few words, expressing confidence in his impartiality. Sir William Harcourt, on behalf of the Liberals, also congratulated Mr. Gully, but it was noticed that he was not cheered as warmly as Mr. Balfour. The House of Commons then adjourned until to-morrow.

GREAT HAUL OF FISH.

The Fraser Alive With Salmon—1,000,000 Taken in a Day.

New Westminster, Aug. 12.—Better fishing was never had on the Fraser than last night and to-day. The boats last night averaged 350 each with a top catch of over 1200. Over 700,000 was the result of the night's work and another 300,000 may be added for to-day, bringing the catch for 24 hours up to one million fish. The boats in the single draft were loaded to the sinking point. This afternoon the fish appeared more plentiful than ever, 500 to a drift being common.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Manitoba Too Busy With the Harvest to Consider it Now.

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—Premier Greenway says Manitoba's answer to the latest communication from the Ottawa government on the schol question won't be considered until after the harvest.

THE SEALERS.

Reached Behring Sea and Expect that Seizures Will Be Made.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—The steamer Uranis brings news that the sealers have reached Behring Sea and are in imminent danger of seizure by revenue cutters. This means a great deal with the owners of sealing vessels and those interested in sealing ventures. The instructions under which the cutters are boarding the vessels this year were said to include orders to seize all sealskins. The last news from the United States cutter Corwin, which was received by by those on the Uranis, was that she was expected back at Unamik Island by the middle of July. All these things indicate that the next news received from Behring sea is likely to be sensational in its nature.

CABLE NEWS.

Spain's Preparations to Crush Cuba—Capture of a Fugitive.

London, Aug. 12.—The mobilization of the Spanish army reserve continues, in some cases against the will of the reserves. At Matara, near Barcelona, for instance, the reserve refused to march when called upon to do so until Gen. Darmes fired in the air and thus enforced discipline.

Mabel Stanley, otherwise Millie Millet, who was arrested at Liverpool on Saturday on board the Cunard steamer Etruria, while on her way to New York, was brought up at Bow street police court this morning and formally charged with stealing £587 from Mrs. Gibbons, of London, and also with taking a quantity of jewelry from that lady. Mabel Stanley, who was the guest of Mrs. Gibbons during the month of July, is a stylishly dressed woman, and was booked under the name of Stanley for New York when taken into custody. The jewelry was recovered.

TOO MUCH LAW.

Vancouverite Commits Suicide Over Losing a Law Suit.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 12.—A man named Slade committed suicide yesterday by throwing himself in front of the Pacific express as it entered the depot. Several persons observed him standing behind the switch just as the train passed under the bridge and from his actions supposed him to be drunk. The moment the engine reached the switch Slade rushed in front of it. The cowcatcher threw him across the rail so that the wheel passed over his right leg, severing it completely half way between the foot and the knee. When examined the base of the skull was found to be fractured and the spine seriously injured. He died at the hospital last night. The action is attributed to despondency occasioned by losing a law suit.

TO-DAY'S CANADIAN NEWS

C. P. R. Traffic Returns Show an Increase—Fisherman Killed by Lightning.

A Prominent Citizen of Lindsay Drowned—Unfortunate Railway Accident.

Amherstburg, Aug. 12.—A five-year-old child of John Whitehouse, of the Michigan Central railway, was choked to death on Saturday evening by a piece of meat lodging in her throat.

Southampton, Aug. 12.—On Saturday morning, during a thunderstorm, Gabriel Granville, fisherman, was struck by lightning in his boat off Au Sable beach, and instantly killed.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—C. P. R. traffic returns for the week ending Aug. 7 were $364,000; same week last year, $359,000.

Savvenne, Aug. 12.—On Friday morning lightning struck a tent occupied by Indians on Lac des Mille Lac reserve, killing the wife and dog.

Lindsay, Aug. 12.—Robert Thexton, coal and hay contractor, was drowned Saturday afternoon by falling off his tug. He is brother-in-law of Dr. McAlpine and Sam Hughes, M. P., and was widely known and respected.

Windsor, Aug. 12.—John Robinson, driver, was struck by a freight train on Saturday and both of his legs were cut off. He will not likely recover.

Niagara Falls, Aug. 12.—Five highwaymen tried to rob the passengers on the Clifton House omnibus last night right at the hotel door as they alighted from the vehicle. One of the gang turned down the street lamp and the others attempted the robbery. The robbers failed in their purpose and were chased in various directions. Two were caught and gave their names as Kelly and Molyneux.

THE CHINESE MASSACRES.

Horrible Mutilation of Mrs. Stewart, One of the Victims.

New York, Aug. 12.—A special to the World from Foo Chow, China, says: Baby Stewart is dead, the eleventh victim of the massacre of missionaries by the Chinese at Hwa Sang. One of the murderers of the Stewarts has been caught and confessed that they cut off the hands, feet and head of the wife. Mrs. Stewart was frenzied and fought till literally hacked to pieces. Foo Chow is cut off from Pekin. The Chinese say that telegraph lines are blocked north of the Yang Tse river. The American warship Detroit is coming.

Tientsin, Aug. 12.—A meeting of foreign residents of this city was held here to-day, and it was decided to communicate by cable the necessity of the immediate intervention in China, upon behalf of British and United States governments, and the following telegram was accordingly prepared, as an expression of the sentiments of the foreign residents of Tientsin, and as an appeal for assistance: "The foreign community of Tientsin expresses its sympathy with the friends of the Ku Cheng victims. They consider the Chinese officials guilty, and British and Americans blame the continued apathy of their governments for the situation. They regard England's demand for an inquiry into the Ku Cheng massacre to be useless for, as before, the officials will buy innocent heads and substitute them for the actual criminals. They protest that the Sy Chuen commission implicated the officials of that province, and thereon England and America must send an ultimatum threatening reprisals. Diplomacy is useless. We implore attention. (Signed) Dickenson, chairman."

OTTAWA NEWS.

A Bungling Burglar—Baseball Match at Hull on Sunday.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—A burglar entered Lapointe's hotel in the suburbs on Saturday night. He was a clumsy fellow and while working at the till upset a coal oil lamp and set fire to the place. Being severely burned he yelled for help and was caught and jailed. The fire was extinguished without much damage.

Nearly 2,000 people witnessed a baseball match in Hull yesterday (Sunday) between a local team and a nine from Montreal. There was a brass band and all the other accessories of a regular holiday enjoyment.

HER MAJESTY'S SHIPS.

The Nymphe Leaves Nanaimo in a Hurry This Morning.

Nanaimo, Aug. 12.—H.M.S. Nymphe arrived yesterday from Seymour Narrows and was followed this morning by the Hyacinth. A cricket match was to have been played on the cricket grounds between a team from the Nymphe and the home team, and a concert was to have been given in the opera house this evening by the minstrels from that vessel, but, to the surprise of every one, the Nymphe suddenly sailed again this morning. It was also a surprise to the chief steward, who was left behind with a large stock of newly purchased provisions.

POLITICS IN THE ORIENT.

Li Hung Chang Re-Establishing Himself in Favor at the Chinese Court.

Resolutions Passed at Shanghai Regarding Missionaries in the Interior.

Correspondence Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, July 27.—Count Inouye has resumed control of the Japanese legation in Corea, and the scandals growing out of quarrels between his subordinates and the Japanese employees in Corean public service are gradually subsiding. The envoy and his wife were received at court on July 22. The Queen greeted Countess Inouye warmly, and expressed the desire that she would remain long in Seoul. By many observers it is believed that an effort will be made to influence the Queen through Countess Inouye, but the actual circumstances do not warrant this supposition. Count Inouye intends to remain in Corea only long enough to allay the dissensions among his countrymen and set the affairs of the legation in order; after which he will be succeeded by General Viscount Miura, whose views respecting the course to be pursued by Japan are widely opposed to those of the present incumbent. Miura will be authorized by his government to adopt a policy of forbearance and conciliation, instead of endeavoring to enforce immediate submission to Japanese dictation. Popular opinion is divided as to Miura's chances of success. It is evident that high abilities are required, and abilities of a totally different kind from those which Inouye possesses, in order to win the confidence of the Corean political leaders.

After the escape of Pak Yong-hyo, the deposed Corean home minister, from Seoul, four of his Japanese associates, including a newspaper correspondent, were ordered to leave the country, on the ground that their presence was prejudicial to peace. The Japanese consul approved their expulsion. At the same time some 40 Japanese of both sexes, and of a disreputable class, were sent back to their own country.

The new envoy from Corea, Ko Yonghwai, assumed the duties of his office in Japan on July 22. The special ambassador, Prince Wi-hwa, appointed some months ago to visit Japan and offer the king's congratulations and thanks to the emperor, has declined to serve, and no substitute has been nominated. This mark of discourtesy is attributed to the Queen's perverseness.

The subjugation of southwest Formosa by the Japanese proceeds slowly. No attack upon the strong positions held by Liu and other insurgent chiefs will be ordered until it is certain that the movement can be made irresistible. Meanwhile the Japanese outposts suffer considerably from guerrilla onslaughts. The government at Tokio is considering the question of suspending the civil administration, under Governor-General Kabayama, until the military conquest of the island shall have been completed. A stringent proclamation has been published by the governor-general, condemning to death all natives found guilty of aiding or abetting the insurgents.

Although the ex-Viceroy Li Hung Chang still suffers from the displeasure of the Chinese court, he is not without hope that his efforts to re-establish himself in favor will be successful. By judicious use of the treasure yet at his disposal, he may regain a position the resources of which will enable him to recoup his disbursements a hundred fold, if he lives long enough. His most prominent rival, the Viceroy Chang, at Nanking, has not latterly used his opportunities to advantage. The anti-foreign uprisings in the interior, his share in originating which is well understood at Peking, have not turned out well, and their failure is reckoned more or less against him. Some of his recent recommendations to the Tsung-li-Yamen have been more strongly flavored with prejudice than could be approved by even that unprogressive body. He proposed two candidates for the post of envoy to Japan, on the express ground that they knew no language but Chinese, and therefore could not communicate with any Europeans. This was too much for Prince Kung and other advocates of moderate reform, who hold that familiarity with foreign methods and ideas is essential in modern Chinese diplomacy, however despicable these methods and ideas may be. Li Hung Chang clings to the belief that the Emperor will soon realize the value of his great experience, and that his services will then be considered as indispensable as they were before the war. In that event the hostility of Chang and other enemies will give him no concern.

At an indignation meeting of American citizens at Shanghai, on July 15th, resolutions were passed, calling upon the United States government to appoint a commission, headed by a consular officer of highest rank, and consisting of Americans possessing a knowledge of the Chinese language and customs, to proceed at the earliest moment to Cheng-tu, and thoroughly investigate the causes and fix the responsibility of the recent riots in which valuable American property was wantonly destroyed, and 24 American missionaries, with numerous children, were violently maltreated at the instigation of native officials. The government at Washington was also advised that a money indemnity was insufficient to meet the demands of the case, and that those in attendance at the meeting insisted upon the prompt and adequate punishment of the guilty parties, without regard to their rank or station. Furthermore, they demanded that provision be made for the immediate return of the missionaries to their stations in Szechuan province, and that their right to reside and prosecute their work in the interior of China be publicly proclaimed in all parts of the empire.

The Japanese government learns that reports have been circulated in Europe to the effect that a pecuniary demand has been made upon China in consequence of the retrocession of the Liaotung peninsula and adjoining districts, and that the matter is receiving attention from the Russian authorities. The report is without foundation. No claim has yet been formulated by Japan, nor has the question been brought forward for discussion. It is still doubtful whether this particular detail will be settled in China or Japan, but the present disposition of the Japanese is to open the negotiation in Tokio after the arrival of the new Chinese envoy at his post. At Tokio the undue interference of European powers can be better guarded against than in China.

The first reception of the new Japanese envoy at the Chinese court was distinguished by a departure from conventional precedent which excites much comment in diplomatic circles. The Chinese cling tenaciously to their punctilious observances, especially those which guard the sacredness of the throne, and the methods of approach to the person of the sovereign are regulated and enforced with unvarying strictness. The emperor holds audiences seated on a platform to which he ascends by a set of steps intended for his exclusive use. When credentials have hitherto been presented, they have been taken to him by side staircases, at the right or left of the central flight. For a long time the foreign ministers in Peking have claimed that since these documents proceed originally from the rulers of their respective nations, they should have the privilege of passing over the imperial stairway, but no attention has been paid to their plea. Mr. Hayashi, however, had been admonished by his government to insist upon every mark of respect to which his position entitled him, and to submit to no slight, however trivial it might appear, for the reason that forms which are elsewhere considered insignificant are often magnified to vast importance in China. He therefore expressed a strong desire that his credentials should be conveyed to the emperor by the route reserved for his majesty, and after some demur his request was granted, rather to the surprise of his European and American colleagues. The audience took place July 7th, and after the appropriate addresses were delivered the envoy's documents were received by Prinz Kung, president of the Tsung-li-Yamen, and carried up the central steps to the throne. Mr. Hayashi's speech on the occasion was as follows:—"His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, rejoicing sincerely at the restoration of peaceful relations, has been pleased to accredit me as his representative at your majesty's court. I beg permission to express my sense of the honor I enjoy in being granted this audience, and given the opportunity of presenting my credentials. It is my profound hope that hereafter the amicable intercourse of the two empires may become more and more intimate, and that I may long be favored with your majesty's consideration. I pray that your majesty may be blessed with long life and a prosperous reign."

The reply was brief and to this effect: "The war is ended and peace is re-established. I am happy to receive you. The two countries, separated only by a narrow strip of water, should always maintain terms of friendship."

A storm of extraordinary severity visited the south of Japan on July 25th, causing great loss of life and destroying property of immense value. Many calamities are reported, the most serious of which was the overthrow of a railway train bringing disabled soldiers from Hiroshima to the north for hospital treatment. The force of the tempest was such that thirteen cars, together with the engine, were blown from a causeway into a deep inlet of the inland sea. It is stated that 180 passengers were killed or fatally injured, but hopes are entertained that these first accounts may prove to be exaggerated. A corps of surgeons was dispatched from Hiroshima to the scene by the Emperor's order, and 500 yen were sent by the Empress to relieve the immediate wants of the sufferers.

Plans for an international exposition are now under consideration by Japanese capitalists, and there is a prospect that the scheme may be discussed in the coming session of the diet. The site suggested is by Tokio at the mouth of the Sumida river, and the first or second year of the twentieth century is indicated as the earliest possible practicable time.

STORAGE OF CALORIC.

Men's Experiences in Passing From One Climate to Another.

There is some danger to the novice in going into semi-tropical regions in being unacquainted with and unprepared for the degree of apparent cold which he is likely to find to his great surprise. And when he looks at the thermometer he is further surprised to see it so high while his feelings indicate a much lower temperature. He is still more astonished to find the natives do not seem to mind the cold that makes the novice shiver. The fact is that without his accustomed fire and housewarming facilities, subjected to air currents, the practical temperature in its physiological effects is much lower than the thermometer registers. In Spain, Italy, and in general along the Mediterranean shore, they have a semi-tropical climate, during eight or nine months of the year, during which time the natives hold their calori-facient function in reserve, and when they reach their short and moderately cold season they have no difficulty in drawing sufficiently on their reserve heat-making power. The man from the north has no such reserve, and what he has the temperature is not sufficiently stimulating to call into full activity. He has used up his caloric in the greater cold of the north. People from the extreme south enjoy their first northern winter. I met in Teneriffe an intelligent captain of a whaling ship who had several times fished in the Behring sea. He said that it is customary for the whalers to make up for the loss of men from desertion by taking on South Sea Islanders. He said they bear the cold and hardships of the north as well as the New Bedford whalemen, and in proof related the following incident: One morning, when far north, he noticed on coming on deck one of his South Sea Islanders, naked, taking a bath. There was a strong wind blowing, and it was so cold that the water he dashed over him froze as it struck the deck. The man seemed to enjoy it, though he had never seen frozen water or snow before. There are good reasons why people of the north with impaired stamina should not expect to bear exposure as well as the natives of semi-tropical regions, and should make themselves, in regard to temperature, more comfortable than would be sufficient for the natives. —Popular Science Monthly.

TRAMPING SUITS HIM.

Worth More Than $50,000, but He Touches it Only When in Jail.

Daniel Goodwin is sole heir to his father's estate, which is estimated to be between $50,000 and $100,000. Instead of enjoying the pleasure which his fortune could procure, he prefers to let his guardian, Willard Spaulding, of Peabody, Mass., look out for it, while he travels about like a tramp. In Utica his identity was not known, and he was sent to jail as a common vagrant. Before going to the jail he borrowed thirty cents and sent a telegram to his guardian, asking for money. When he got to the jail he sent the following note to Attorney J. Frank Rogers:

"Mr. J. F. Rogers please call at the Jail and see me they are holding me here for something and I have $50 in the western union oface and want you here ameadetly and you will get your pay Com and see me at once daniel geodwin."

The note was written in a good hand upon coarse brown paper. Mr. Rogers will doubtless treasure it as a curiosity. It was handed to the latter by a man just out of jail. Curiosity prompted him to comply with the request. He found at the jail an odd looking individual under arrest for vagrancy, who looked about twenty-five, and used good language, though he seemed a little incoherent. He had on two pairs of pants and a pair of overalls over these, worn out shoes, dusty coat, and a slouch hat. He was unshaven and unclean. He told the lawyer his story and though the latter doubted it, he went to the telegraph office and found a verification for at least a part of it in the shape of a check for $50. He telegraphed the sender of the check and found that the story as told above was true. Mr. Rogers took the money to his client and secured his release. As Daniel passed out of the jail he raised his hat to the dignity of the law as represented by Jailer Buckley and tramped away for parts unknown.

Notwithstanding his ignorance of spelling he was quite intelligent. He says he is going to enjoy life on "first principles" until his money is all gone and then he will go to work. When he gets in a tight place he wires his guardian for money and it always comes. He does no one any harm but himself.

Land Registry Act.

In the Matter of the Application of Peter Steele for a Certificate of Indefeasible Title to the following portions of Sections XXXI and XXXII., Esquimalt District, viz.:

All that piece or parcel of land forming a portion of Section XXXII., Esquimalt District, together known as Lots 20 and 21, according to a survey and plan made by R. Homfray, C. E., and more particularly described as follows: To wit: Commencing at the N. E. corner of said section, thence running westerly along the northern boundary of said section 396 links, thence south 475 links, thence easterly to the eastern boundary of said section, 351 links; thence northward along the said boundary to the point of beginning, 562 links.

Also that piece or parcel of land known as Buckley's Orchard, and forming a portion of Section XXXI. Esquimalt District, more particularly described as follows: To wit: Commencing at a point on the northern boundary of the said section 14 feet six inches distant from the N. E. corner of before mentioned Section XXXII., thence running easterly along the said boundary 400 feet, thence southerly and parallel to the eastern boundary of the first above described piece of land 325 feet, thence at right angles west 350 feet, thence north to the point of beginning, 198 feet.

Also all that piece or parcel of land forming another portion of Section XXXI., Esquimalt District, bounded as follows, viz.: On the west by the last described piece of land known as Buckley's Orchard, on the south by a line drawn from the south easterly corner of said last described piece to the Craigflower road and parallel to the northern boundary of the said Section XXXI., to the eastward by the Craigflower road, and to the northward by the northern boundary of said Section XXXI.

NOTICE is hereby given that a certificate of indefeasible title to the above lands will be issued to Peter Steele on the 30th day of September, 1895, unless in the meantime a valid objection thereto be made to me in writing by a person claiming an estate or interest therein or any part thereof.

THEIR BAGGAGE FUMIGATED

The Steamship Victoria Stopped at Quarantine Station and Asiatics Landed.

Ship Made a Good Run Across the Pacific — Brought A Big Cargo of Freight.

Although it was 3:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon when the Northern Pacific liner Victoria was reported in the Straits it was not until 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, 18 hours later, that she was made fast to the outer wharf. She went to William Head quarantine station and all of her Asistic passengers were landed for personal inspection and the fumigation of their baggage. The officers of the ship were inclined to think all that very unnecessary. They assert that the open ports of Japan are free from cholera and that its introduction from the interior is guarded by the most striugent quarantine regulations, and that there is no danger of infection here. They report that the spread of the disease in the interior has caused considerable excitement in Japan, and every effort possible is being made to stop its spread and wipe it out. The ship left Yokohama on July 28, three days before the massacres around Hwa Sang and, therefore, could have no news of the affair. She had a splendid trip across the ocean, being 13 days 23½ hours en route. The weather was generally very good, as the following trip report, prepared by Purser James Wood, shows:

The Northern Pacific steamship Victoria left Hong Kong at 6 a.m. on the 17th of July, Amoy at 5 p.m. on the 18th, Woosung at 1 a.m. on the 21st, Kobe at 2 p.m. on the 26th, arriving at Yokohama at 5 p.m. on the 27th. She had light southwest monsoons on the China coast. She left Yokohama at 3 p.m. on the 28th, and moderate easterly winds and seas were encountered to the meridian, which was crossed in 40 north on the 4th of August. Thence to port she had variable wind and a moderate sea prevailed. She passed Carmanah Point at 3:25 p.m. on the 10th of August and arrived at Victoria at 8 p.m. on the same day. Time on passage, 13 days 30½ hours.

The Victoria brought a cargo of 4000 tons, made up very largely of tea and silk. Three hundred tons of general cargo was discharged here. She was given good dispatch here, being away at shortly after 4 o'clock. The vessel brought 27 saloon passengers, five in the second cabin, all Chinese women, 30 Chinese and 14 Japanese for Victoria, and 27 Chinese for Tacoma. The cabin passengers were: Mr. Bagnall, Mrs. Bagnall, Dr. Bennett, Mrs. Bennett, Mr. Crew, Mrs. Crew, Mr. Deshler, Mrs. Germain, Miss M. Germain, Master Harold Germain, Master Walter Germain, Mrs. Hartwell, Misses Hartwell, Mr. Krumm, Mr. Kogt, Lt.-Col. Milne, R. M. A., Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Morse, Mr. Oxenham, Mrs. Oxenham, M. Palmer, Mrs. Palmer, Mr. Roth, Dr. Shaw, Rev. A. D. Seaholm, Mr. Watson.

Col. Milne is in the Royal Marine Artillery, and has been at the legation at Peking. He has, however, been detached from that duty and is returning to Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are residents of Spokane, Washington, and have been to Japan and Russia, Mr. Palmer being in bad health. They go home from Tacoma. Mr. Crew is a New York merchant who has been to the Orient on a business trip. Rev. A. D. Seaholm is an American missionary returning from China. None of the cabin passengers left the ship here, all continuing on to Tacoma, from which port they are booked to their respective homes.

OUTWITTED THE AMERICANS.

English Captain Sneaks His Vessel Out of Port Townsend.

A Port Townsend special to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: "An English captain has cleverly outwitted a party of Americans who had claims against his vessel. The schooner Americana, owned by British subjects and flying the American flag, arrived recently from the Orient. The crew were signed in England, and on their arrival here each man had wages due him averaging about $125. The master, Smith, contracted with a local sailor boarding house master, Max Levy, so the latter states, that for each man taken from the vessel he would pay $50. Three men were stolen from the ship, one of whom was very ill, suffering from a loathsome disease. When the seamen learned that they had been cleverly duped, and that they had been noted in the articles as deserters, they employed counsel. In the meanwhile the vessel went on the dry dock for repairs, and through third parties represented to the seamen's counsel that the men would be paid their wages in full. Then it was that the sailor who was sick was admitted to the marine hospital upon a certificate showing that he was lately discharged from an American vessel. Dr. Cobb, learning of the fraud, began to institute proceedings against the schooner for landing in a United States port a pauper who was suffering from an unmentionable contagion. The penalty is a fine not to exceed $5000. Captain Smith began to realize the serious complications in which the vessel was involved, and begged for and was granted a few days in which to recompense those who had suffered by the schooner's action. However, he quietly engaged a tug and stealthily slipped out of the Sound after dark and across to British Columbia waters, from where he sent back his compliments to the government authorities. The vessel is now at Burrard Inlet, loading lumber for Delegoa Bay, Africa."

TRAIL CREEK.

Opinion of An Old Miner Regarding the District.

Patrick Clarke, one of the best known gold-miners in the west, and for twenty-five years interested in camps in Nevada, Utah, California, Montana, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia, was in the city last week, says the Seattle P. I., and is of the opinion that Trail Creek, where he is located at present, has a future that will equal the best of them and that it is the nucleus of a very large camp. To a Post-Intelligencer reporter Mr. Clark said: "The camp is yielding 150 tons of quartz a day, and the ore is of a class that is very satisfactory, giving from $45 to $50 of gold to the ton. There are some solid pyrites of iron and copper, with a little silver. The tariff on lead ore is to our advantage at the present location in British Columbia.

"There is sure to be a smelter in the locality of Rossland within a year, as the conditions at present would justify such an enterprise. The ore is now shipped to Helena and Tacoma, which makes it quite expensive. It is seven miles by stage from Rossland to the Trail Creek landing.

"Rossland has 3,000 people. They have all come there within a year and the place has every indication of permanency. The miners get the best wages and times are good; the people are very peaceable and are there for business."

Mr. Clark ranks next to Marcus Daly as a successful mining manager. He was for eleven years prominent in Butte mining circles, and for the past eight years has been manager of the Poor Man mine in Coeur d'Alene. He is a large shareholder and the manager of the War Eagle mine at Trail Creek. For one of his years, nearly 45, he appears remarkably young and is a typical miner in appearance and manner. The western miner who does not know Patsy Clark, either by name or reputation, is hard to find.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDS.

An auction on Saturday, 13th July, afforded a striking example of the low rates at present ruling for land—especially for country properties in Fiji. A block of land on the Derkeli river, Vaealevu, containing 2909 acres, only elicited a bid of £100. Two hundred and sixty-five acres in the Bua district was knocked down to Mr. R. Corbett for £25, not 2s. per acre, and 35 perches in Suva known as allotment 7, section 60, was bought by the same bidder for £13 10s.

His Excellency the Administrator is a most accommodating gentleman. The Suva cricket club wanted to have a day's sports, and to ensure that it would prove a success, His Excellency proclaimed a public holiday.

When the Suva Town Board (analogous to our city council) gets through with its business it passes a vote of thanks to "his honor the warden."

The white population of the Gilbert and Marshall islands numbers only ninety persons all told.

At Suva during June rain fell on 20 days, the greatest daily rainfall being 1.54, mean 0.21 and the total 6.31. The highest reading of the thermometer was 86; lowest 64.

Tahiti is lighted by electricity. Tahiti is the principal island of the Society group and embraces 455 square miles out of a total of 637. The total population of the islands is 11,181, and the whole archipelago belongs practically to France. Fiji has an area of 7,451 square miles with a population of some 120,000, and, notwithstanding this and the fact that Suva has water power almost at its doors, no effort has been made to have the electric light laid on in the town.

THE OLD TEASER.

A Venerable Side-Wheeler Which Has Seen Much Service.

One more round trip of the Mirimichi between Montreal and the gulf ports and the staunch old boat's life work will have ended. The quaint side-wheeler of the fashion of a generation ago will give place to the modern twin screw steamship Campagna, which is even now on her way down the canal. The early history of the Mirimichi is unique, inasmuch as she was designed for an entirely different trade from the peaceful one she has followed since the early '70's. She was built at London, England, in 1864, by J. Penn, and was christened the Teaser. For whom she was originally built was not known. This was kept a secret, no doubt, for the reason that her intended trade was of a semi-piratical nature. She was designed for a blockade-runner between Southern ports of the United States and Europe. In that year, 1864, the war of the rebellion was at its height and the navy of the United States had completely blocked all traffic between the rebel ports and Europe. The speed of the Teaser was about 16 miles per hour, which was accounted very fast in those days, and it was thought that she could outsail the ships of the United States navy. She was captured, however, on her first trip, as she was trying to get out of a blockaded southern port with a cargo of cotton. After the close of the war in 1865 she was sold by the United States government, and for a time was employed in the Gulf of Mexico between New Orleans and Galveston. Coal being very expensive, this did not prove a paying investment and she was laid up in New Orleans until 1872, when her present owners, the Quebec Steamship Company, purchased her. Alterations, such as the deck houses, etc., have since been made. Her boilers were renewed six years ago, though the engines are the same as when she was built. She has made 300 round trips to the lower ports, which aggregate over 600,000 miles, and in all her service has never lost a life.—Montreal Star.

LATE CABLE DISPATCHES.

Celebrations Throughout Germany in Commemoration of the Great War.

Complaints About the Kiel Canal Management — The Stamboloff Murder.

London, Aug. 12.—During the week celebrations have been held throughout Germany in commemoration of the battles against the French during the early part of August, 1870. The most significant were probably those at the National Monument at Neiderwald on Monday and Wednesday, and yesterday 1,500 members of the Bavarian military bands made a patriotic demonstration. For the celebration of Aug. 19 on the Templehof field, 2350 veteran organizations will parade with banners before the emperor, and galleries will be erected to accommodate 120,000. Unfavorable comment has been aroused by the fact that the government will not officially take part in the celebration, and Von Tiedmann, governor of Bromberg, in a refusal to join in the Sedan day parade, explained that it would be against the dignity of royal officials to march through the streets beside plain citizens.

Complaints at the unsatisfactory management of the new Baltic canal continue to arrive from all ports and especially from Dantzic and Stettin. Cases are cited where the expense of passing the canal trebly exceeded the benefits derived therefrom, and ship owners strongly appeal that the management should be taken out of the clutches of the bureaucracy and be governed on a business basis. The government, however, persists in declaring that the traffic is increasing daily, especially in Danish, Swedish and Norwegian vessels, and that the fare charged is not exorbitant.

Nearly 35,000 patients have visited Carlsbad since May; the number exceeding the record by 4,000. The greatest increase in the number of visitors has been among the Americans.

Nauram Tufektchieff, who was arrested at Sofia on the charge of being one of the murderers of ex-Premier Stamboloff, has been released from custody. Tufektchief and his brother Nikolavit, it will be remembered, were always designated by the late M. Stamboloff as being the assassins of M. Bellichieff, the Bulgarian minister of finance, who was stabbed to death from behind at night in the streets of Sofia while walking with M. Stamboloff.

The Spanish government has decided to call out 12,000 additional men of the 1894 class of conscripts, to act as reinforcements for Marshal De Campos in Cuba. These troops will embark for Cuba on August 18.

The Sonntags Post says that twenty-six Prussian officers will start for Chili on August 28 to act as military inspectors of the Chilian army. Special leave of absence has been granted for this purpose.

Major-General Herbert, of the Grenadier Guards, lately commander of the Canadian militia, has been created a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Mysteries of the HUMAN BRAIN!

The latest discovery in the scientific world is that nerve centres located in or near the base of the brain control all the organs of the body, and when these nerve centres are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid, or nerve force, are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centres will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force; that is, when a nerve centre is deranged or in any way diseased it is impossible for it to supply the same quantity of nerve force as when in a healthful condition; hence the organs which depend upon it for nerve force suffer, and are unable to properly perform their work, and as a result disease makes its appearance.

At least two-thirds of our chronic diseases and ailments are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centres at the base of the brain, and not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organs and not the nerve centres, which are the cause of the trouble.

The wonderful cures wrought by the Great South American Nervine Tonic are due alone to the fact that this remedy is based upon the foregoing principle. It cures by rebuilding and strengthening the nerve centres, and thereby increasing the supply of nerve force or nervous energy.

This remedy has been found of infinite value for the cure of Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Paroxysms, Sleeplessness, Forgetfulness, Mental Despondency, Nervousness of Females, Hot Flashes, Sick Headache, Heart Disease. The first bottle will convince anyone that a cure is certain.

South American Nervine is without doubt the greatest remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all Chronic Stomach Troubles, because it acts through the nerves. It gives relief in one day, and absolutely effects a permanent cure in every instance. Do not allow your prejudices, or the prejudices of others, to keep you from using this health-giving remedy. It is based on the result of years of scientific research and study. A single bottle will convince the most incredulous.

LEARNING OUR WAYS.

While British politicians are held up as worthy examples for those of our own country it is somewhat saddening to find that some of them at least are stooping to the use of methods so familiar on the Tory side of our own politics. Mr. Chamberlain, for instance, in the recent campaign, used arguments which suggest that he may have been taking lessons from Sir Charles Tupper the elder. Instead of appealing to his hearers in a statesmanlike way he spoke as a catcher of votes pure and simple. He set a Warwickshire gathering boiling with indignation at the late government by deftly showing that whereas it has proposed to interfere with the Englishman's beer, it had lowered the tax on Irish whiskey sixpence a gallon. Were the Englishmen, he demanded, going to pay more for their beer in order that Irishmen should get their whiskey cheaper? and Warwickshire almost to a man thundered "no." In Staffordshire he told the miners that the government had deliberately held back the miners' bill in order to force disestablishment in Wales, considering a bill that was going to save lives of less account than a bill to destroy and injure the church. At a meeting in the same county he promised his audience old-age pensions, assuring them that such schemes were much better than the abolition of the House of Lords. When one of his audience called out, "We want enough to live on now, without pensions," Mr. Chamberlain replied that if the workingmen wanted their wages raised they must vote for the Unionist party, who would give them good trade by restoring confidence and developing enterprise. In all his addresses he had promises for the electors of good wages and good times if his party should get into power. Col. North, opposing Herbert Gladstone in Leeds, promised more work and higher wages and plenty of government contracts in his constituency if he were chosen. Sir Seager Hunt, M. P., chairman of the company owning the great shipbuilding yard at East Hull, promised, if the government were sustained, to get "their yard full of admiralty work," to the advantage, of course, of the laboring classes. In South Shields the Conservative candidate promised, if elected, to see that there was an improvement in trade and that more shipping came to the Tyne. The working classes in the cities were thus cajoled, while in the rural districts the failure of the government to do anything for the farmers was the main topic of every speaker. Even Mr. Balfour, whose conduct in the campaign contrasted strongly with that of his colleagues, told the Midlothian electors that the Liberals "had time enough to ruin the publicans and to harass every other trade and industry in the country, but they had no time to bring relief to what was after all the greatest of our national industries. The result has been that during the past three years the depression in English agriculture has been greater than has been known in the memory of man." It is related of Sir William Harcourt, on the other hand, that in West Monmouth he told his hearers that trade consisted in the demand which other countries made for the manufactures of England. The extent of this demand depended upon the condition of these foreign countries, and that condition was something with which the government of England had nothing to do. The depression of business in America, Australia, and in Argentina naturally affected business in England, but the English government could exercise no control over such conditions. If the figures showing the movement of miners' wages in South Wales and Monmouth were examined, Sir William Harcourt pointed out, it would be found that under Liberal governments advances had taken place to the extent of 85 per cent., and under the Tory government to the extent of 60 per cent., while the reductions had been under the Tories 98 per cent., and under the Liberals 46 per cent. If it were true that governments had anything to do with wages, the Liberals had a fair percentage in their favor, but the fact was the governments had nothing at all to do with the matter and to claim that they had was not an honest policy. All this will remind many people of the days of 1878 when our own Tory politicians were so profuse with promises on behalf of their N. P. nostrum. Those promises have not been and will not be fulfilled, in which respect they are of a kind with those of the English Tories. It is rather sad to see the old country statesman of the Tory stripe getting down from the high level he was supposed to occupy.

Says the Kamloops Sentinel: "From events that have happened in Victoria and Vancouver, particularly during the present year, it looks much as if the legislation relating to the government of cities by commissioners, which was introduced by the premier, now Chief Justice Davie, and withdrawn, will soon be hailed as a way out of an unfortunate state of affairs." Unfortunately for our contemporary's theory, the citizens of Victoria and Vancouver are too well aware that while their civic business is not well managed the business of the province is much worse managed. They look upon the suggestion that relief may come from the men whose incapacity and bungling have so much injured provincial interests as rather a grim sarcasm. "Better the devil we know than the devil we don't know," they might well say with emphasis, but they are not altogether without knowledge of the character of the devil the Sentinel so heartily recommends.

The Wellington Enterprise says there are several aspirants for the vacancy in the representation of Cowichan-Alberni. The names of Lindley Crease, S. Perry Mills and Horace Davie are mentioned by the Enterprise, but it adds that when nomination day arrives G. A. Huff, of Alberni, will probably be the only candidate.

LITERARY NOTICES.

"The Martyred Fool," by David Christie Murray. The talented author of "The Martyred Fool" has recently been heard in Victoria as a speaker, or rather, as he himself would prefer describing his connection with the platform, as a "talker." The "Fool" of the novel is a youth born in poverty and nurtured in socialism by his father, a Welshman, whose family had suffered for generations cruelties and oppression inflicted by the rich. A French count, transported to New Caledonia for his revolutionary views, was a friend of the "Fool's" father, and after the hanging of the latter, took the boy to France, where the Count had succeeded to a dukedom and vast wealth. The "Fool" was educated at the Duke's expense, but clung tenaciously to the precepts which had early been implanted in his mind, and finally drifted into anarchism and became a maker of bombs. The struggle between conscience and duty, and the horror of the work in which his compatriots were engaged, are portrayed by a master pen. The duke stood nobly by his protege, but the "Fool's" so-called "conscience," "love of liberty," and belief in the "rights of the masses" had the mastery. The martyrdom came, when, ordered by a dishonest ballot of the committee of the propaganda to kill a benefactor of the poor simply because his benefactions made aristocracy respectable, he took a bomb to a council meeting, exposed the trick, dropped the bomb on the table and was blown with his fellow fools into eternity. As a contradiction to one phase of the great social question, "The Martyred Fool" will be read with instruction, for while it does not attempt to solve the problem it proves, what, of course, every person but "Fools" already know, that the killing of aristocrats or the wrecking of property tends to a continuation rather than a diminution of the terrible miseries of the poor. ### Brief Locals.

—The funeral of the late Charlotte Emily O'Neil took place this afternoon at 2 from the residence of the family and half an hour later from the Metropolitan Methodist church. There was a large attendance.

—At high mass at St. Andrew's R. C. cathedral yesterday the choir rendered La Hache's mass admirably. The mass is a most impressive one, the music being excellent. The solos by Miss McNiffe and Mr. Sehl were very well rendered. There were many present aside from the congregation. In the evening services the feature of the music was a solo by Ernest Pratt. He sang Parker's "Jerusalem" splendidly. He has a very fine tenor voice and uses it well. Rev. Father Laterme preached in the morning and Rev. Father Nicolaye in the evening.

—Major F. B. Gregory, commanding No. 3 Company, B. C. B. G. A., has issued an order regarding the memorial and decoration service to be held on Sunday next, the anniversary of the death of the late Capt. Smallfield. The company will parade at the drill hall at 3 p.m. and march to Ross Bay. Persons desirous of contributing flowers may leave them at the drill hall between 7.30 and 9 p.m. on Saturday and 11 and 3 p.m. on Sunday. Members of Nos. 1 and 2 companies and the staff are invited to take part. Dress: tunics, helmets, white gloves and side arms.

WARRIMOO BADLY DAMAGED

Docked at Esquimalt Her Bottom Found in Worse Condition Than Thought.

Extensive Repairs That Will Cost a Goodly Sum Will be Necessary.

The damage inflicted to the steamship Warrimoo by the jagged reef inside of Bonilla Point, where she rested on Friday last, is much greater than was supposed. She is in fact badly injured, and will require extensive repairs and an outlay of many thousand dollars. She was docked at the Esquimalt graving dock this morning, and the condition of her bottom was a surprise to her crew. The decision to place her in the dock for a survey was reached on Saturday evening, and the trip to Vancouver was made as speedily as possible. She finished discharging last night and came back at once. She was at Esquimalt harbor early this morning, and entered the dock about 9:30 o'clock. The dock was closed and at noon the pumps revealed the bottom of the big dock. The officers, headed by Capt. Arundel, proceeded at once to examine her. "She is in much worse condition than I ever expected to find her," remarked Capt. Arundel to a Times reporter. Not a single plate was found to be actually broken, but there were 30 or 40 that were warped and crumpled out of shape. There was one plate bent back so far that it left a gaping space at the point where the joint with the next one occurs. The greatest damage to the bottom was found to be on the starboard side well forward and about under the main hold. It is there where the hole referred to is located, and where from half a dozen rivet holes as well streams of water were still pouring at 2.30 o'clock. The injury to the plates extends down to the sheathing plates over the keel. The next greatest damage is aft, and was evidently inflicted while the vessel was being backed off after she had struck the first time. Plates are bent and bulged and rivets started in several places. It was the opinion of all who saw the bottom that if the ship had not been going at a snail's pace she would have been cut clear through both bottoms, or if it had been rough at all she would have been ground into a condition beyond redemption.

The official survey is being made this afternoon. Capt. Collister, inspector of hulls, and D. Cartmel, representing Lloyd's, and Capt. John Irving, of the C.P.N. Co., represents Capt. Arundel on the board. They began their work at the stern post at 2:15 o'clock and worked slowly forward on the port side, examining carefully every damaged plate and every started rivet. The captain and chief engineer of the Warrimoo were also present. Copious notes were made of everything inspected. The survey will consume the greater part of the afternoon, and there will be a deliberation on the facts before a finding is reached. None of the board cared to say anything for publication before their work was completed. They would not venture a guess as to the amount of money that it would cost to repair the ship. It is difficult as well to say whether she will be fixed up here or not. Certain it is that she will at least require temporary repairs before she leaves the dock.

The vessel did not take in any water, being protected from that by the inside bottom. She did, however, take a large amount between the two bottoms, and for several hours it streamed through cracks and rivet holes in as great volume as the latter would permit. The dry dock was visited by large numbers after the water had been pumped out, and many went down into the dock and under the great marine monster. The Warrimoo is a noble looking ship in dock. Her model is a pretty one, with its sharp bow gradually running out to good beam in graceful lines and back to narrowness at the overhanging stern.

The greatest sympathy is expressed for Captain Arundel. He can scarcely be blamed in any way for the accident. The ship was enveloped in a dense fog, and he had to reckon from the sound of a fog signal complained of as unsatisfactory by the best local masters. He took every precaution possible previous to striking, getting soundings repeatedly and proceeding at a slow pace, and, after striking, got his vessel out of a dangerous place by admirable seamanship.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

The trial of Van Volkenburg v. Western Canada Ranching Co., Ltd., was commenced this morning before Mr. Justice Drake. The plaintiff, Benjamin Van Volkenburgh, in 1894 gave a chattel mortgage to the British Columbia Land Investment Agency on his goods to secure the payment of the sum of $5,000. The mortgage was afterwards assigned to the defendants, who took possession of the store and business in October, 1894. The plaintiff claims that he did not mortgage the goodwill of his business, and claims damages by reason of customers having been sent from his store to the B. C. Cattle Co.'s store at the corner of Government and Yates streets. The defence set up is that possession was taken with plaintiff's consent. Mr. S. Perry Mills appeared for plaintiff and Mr. A. E. McPhillips for defendants.

—The public schools and collegiate institute opened this morning after summer vacation with a good attendance of pupils. The attendance at the collegiate institute was: First division, Principal Paul, 40; second, Mr. Pines, 31; third, Mr. Russell, 22; fourth, Mr. Muir, 39. The St. Louis College and other private schools also reopened to-day.

THE TOURNAMENT OVER.

Brilliant Tennis in Every Match on the Closing Day.

The finals in all of the events in the tennis tournament except the mixed doubles handicap were played off on Saturday. There was a big crowd at the courts and there was great enthusiasm over the matches. J. F. Foulkes retains the provincial championship, as he won from Harvey Combe after a splendid contest by a score of 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. Miss Goward won the championship in the ladies' singles, defeating in the final Miss Anderson, of Tacoma, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. Messrs. Cuppage and Foulkes won the doubles, beating Messrs. Longe and Barkely. This game was stubbornly contested, requiring five sets and nearly three hours' play to decide. The scores were 5-7, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. Mrs. Beamsdeh and Harvey Combe won the mixed doubles open, defeating Miss Goward and Mr. Goward 6-4, 2-6, 6-0. The ladies' doubles was won by Mrs. Burrill and Miss Keshaw from Miss Anderson and Miss Keown. It was a hard fought battle, as the score shows. The score was 6-8, 6-3, 7-5.

At the conclusion Mrs. Pooley presented the prizes and Justice Drake delivered an address, in which he thanked the Tacoma visitors for their attendance and the part they had in making the affair a success. E. A. Jacob, hon. secretary, and Rev. Canon Beanlands, who was chief scorer, were given testimonials by the members. They fully merited them, for they were untiring and deserve the highest praise.

The mixed doubles handicap will be played off this afternoon.

SURVEYORS RETURN.

A Party Back From the Rich Chilcotin Country.

Surveyor Fry and a party of eleven men, who left here on June 5th last to commence operations on the surveying of the lands along the supposed route of the British Pacific railway, returned to Victoria on the Charmer last evening. They were into the heart of the famed Chilcotin country, which proved to be as good as had been reported, vast tracts of excellent agricultural land being found. The only drawback—if drawback it can be called—to this promising section of the province is the fact that the country is somewhat broken. Still there is, without question, plenty of good land for agricultural purposes. The party were favored with good weather throughout almost the entire trip, and no accidents of any kind are reported. It is more than likely than nothing more will be done on the project this year.

—There were numerous boating accidents yesterday, but luckily none of them resulted seriously. A strong southeast wind, increasing at times to a gale, was blowing. A party of three men and five boys were capsized off the San Pedro. There was lots of cork in the boat and she righted herself and was headed for the Dallas road beach. The occupants escaped with a good ducking. Another party was upset in the harbor, and at Oak Bay there were several accidents. One man at the latter place was taken off the bottom of a boat after having been in the water for half an hour.

Gleanings of City and Provincial News in a Condensed Form.

—Table linens, dinner napkins, towels, sheetings, etc., at Weiler Bros.

—A small blaze in the roof of P. Blyth's premises, 45 Fort street, occupied the attention of the fire department for a short time on Saturday evening.

—Mr. E. Collis, janitor of the South Park school, was presented with a handsome and curious stick purchased for him by the members of the teachers' party who recently visited Honolulu.

—A number of Victorians who own property in Port Angeles intend chartering a steamer on Saturday next and as a deputation meet the Port Angeles board of equalization, as they consider the assessments too high.

—The steamer City of Puebla arrived from San Francisco on Saturday night and the Umatilla sailed south last evening. Both had large passenger lists and full cargoes. The Puebla brought 130 tons of freight for Victoria.

—The schooner Lizzie Colby, M. McPhee master, arrived at Anacortes last week, 17 days from Behring Sea. She left Anacortes April 20 for the cod banks, and brings back a full catch of 112,000 fish, or about 500,000 pounds. This was the Colby's fourth voyage to Behring Sea since January 1.

—Japanese Consul Nosse, of Vancouver, has just received word from his government that passports will not be granted to any more Japanese to leave that country for Canada unless they have sufficient money to engage in farming or trade. This action was taken in accordance with a report made by Consul Nosse in regard to the large number of Japanese laborers out of work here a few months ago.

—The cases in police court this morning were of minor importance. Louisa, a Fort Rupert Indian woman, found drunk, was fined $5 or 12 days in jail. Antonio Remando, found drunk on the street, was convicted and discharged, it being his first offence. Tim Kee, who refused to pay his revenue tax, was ordered to pay it and $2 costs besides. Sun Chung, who had also refused to pay the revenue tax, was ordered to pay it and $4.50 costs besides. The extra $2.50 was for the pay of the interpreter engaged for the hearing. Chung was inclined to be a little stubborn about the matter but eventually paid up.

—Denman Thompson's quaint play "The Old Homestead" will be seen at the Victoria theatre to-morrow and Wednesday evenings. The aphorism, "nothing succeeds like success," has been amply illustrated by this familiar production. During all the years it has been on the road its popularity has apparently not abated a whit. This is probably due, more than anything else, to its naturalness. The theme has been worked over and over again, in song, verse and story, but it appears never to pall in the surroundings in which it has been set by the author. A visit to "The Old oHmestead" is always refreshing. The double quartette is still a prominent feature and new selections have been added to their repertoire.

—Under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Dewdney and His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Teague, the grand garden party and sumer fete will be opened in the magnificent grounds of the Douglas estate to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. A large attendance is expected, as the attractions which have been in preparation during the past week are numerous and varied. On the grounds, which are among the finest in British Columbia, will be booths and stalls containing fancy work, plain sewing, confectionery, flowers, ice cream and cake, tea and coffee, fairy dates and home made candies in beautiful little bonbonieres, for all of which the most reasonable charges will be made. At 4 o'clock the exhibition of gloxinias and begonias will be opened and those who admire beauty and variety in flowers should not fail to see this wonderful display. The band of the B. C. B. G. A. will play during the afternoon the most popular selections from operas and marches and medleys by the best composers. The admission will be 25 cents. Trams will bring visitors to the end of the bridge, which is but a few steps to the entrance at the bottom of the gardens.

—The Union Steamship Company's steamer Capilano left yesterday for Comox for a load of coal for the Behring sea patrol fleet. She will be commanded on her northern trip by Capt. H. R. Foot.

—The adjourned congregational meeting of the Reformed Episcopal church will be held to-morrow, Tuesday evening, at 8 p.m., in the schoolroom. Among other matters the Bishop's letter of resignation will be considered. A full attendance is therefore requested.

—There will be an illustrated health talk for mothers and daughters given at the Y. M. C. A. hall, 40 Broad street, to-morrow (Tuesday) at 2 p.m., by Mrs. Montague Waller, of London, England. There will be no charge for admission, and all are cordially invited to attend.

—The Theosophical lecturer last evening supported the re-incarnation doctrine by referring to analogy as the guiding law of nature. The serpent shedding his skin, the bulbous plants dying down to the root to shoot forth again next season, the caterpillar changing into the butterdy, were instanced as analogies.

—The prizes for the Y. M. C. A. aquatic sports will be presented at the association parlor on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. There will also be an opportunity for new members to join the rowing club. An invitation is extended to all who desire to attend the meeting. This invitation includes ladies.

—Charles W. Jenkinson, assistant provincial assessor, and Miss Eleanor Deane Richardson, of Olympia, were united in marriage at Seattle on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Rev. John F. Damon, the officiating clergyman. The couple left for Victoria at once, arriving yesterday morning, and are receiving the congratulations of their friends.

—A large contingent of Victoria's tennis enthusiasts will attend the Tacoma tournament, which opens on Wednesday of this week. Some will leave Wednesday morning and others on Thursday. Among those who go over will be Mrs. Marvin, Miss Eastley, Miss Scott, Miss Wright, J. F. Foulkes, R. Harvey, P. S. Lampman, C. W. Gamble and Thomas E. Pooley. Entries will be made in all the events.

—Mr. Jackson Hanby, Winnipeg's best tenor vocalist, is paying Victoria a visit. He assisted his old friend Mr. J. G. Brown at both services in the First Presbyterian church yesterday. In the evening he sang Holden's "Nearer My God to Thee," his splendid tenor voice charming all who heard it. Mr. Hanby is on a pleasure trip after a season of hard work, and after doing the coast he will return to Boston to study further for his profession.

—Prof. Prince, the fisheries commissioner, who has been spending some time studying the habits of the salmon and the manner of catching them on the northern rivers, has gone over to the Fraser river with the same object in view. He will endeavor to frame regulations suitable to various fishery grounds. After the close of the Fraser river season he will come to Victoria to confer with the cannery owners, most of whom reside here.

—Last week Rev. Dr. Campbell preached in the school house at Colwood to a large congregation. After the service a conference regarding the building of a church took place. Mr. Perte generously offered for a church site an acre beautifully located. Steps are being taken to proceed at once with the building. This is a new station carried on in conjunction with Sooke and Metchosin. Mr. Robertson, the Presbyterian missionary in the field, is very popular, and is doing excellent work.

—The operetta "The Four-Leaved Clover" will be produced in A.O.U.W. Hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, August 21 and 22. The stage has been enlarged and new scenery placed especially for this performance. This is the second appearance of the only company composed entirely of children ever successfully formed in our city. It will also be the first appearance of little Senorita Juanita in latest dances. The following is the cast:

THE NORTHERN SALMON PACK

Most of the Canneries on the Northern Rivers Closed Down for the Season.

Only a Two-Third Pack on Skeena River—Rivers Inlet Has the Big Output.

Most of the northern salmon canneries on the Skeena river have been closed for the season, and the result is now pretty well known. To Capt. Meyers, of the steamer Danube, which arrived from the north this morning, the Times is indebted for a summary of the catch. On the whole the canners are pretty well satisfied, although at Rivers Inlet, where the run was the best, the canneries between them put up ten thousand cases less than they prepared for. This is on account of the weather, which was very unfavorbale. At times when the run was at its best boats could not go out on account of the wind. The canners on the other northern rivers had the same trouble. On the Skeena the canners only put up a two-thirds pack. One or two of the canneries are still at work, but they will not materially increase their pack. On Naas river the pack is considered a fairly good one. The canneries are still working, but like these on the Skeena will not increase their pack to any great extent. Capt. Meyers calculates that the increase over the present figures will not amount to more than 5,000 cases.

This season sixteen canneries have been operating in the north, and their total pack up to date is 174,000 cases. Last year twelve canneries put up 130,402 cases. Following is the summary of this season's pack:

Naas River—Mill Bay, 8,000; Naas Harbor, 10,000; total, 18,000.

Last year the Federation Canning Company put up 19,587 cases. This year's pack will probably be a couple of thousand more than given above.

Skeena River—Inverness, 8,200; North Pacific, 9,000; Balmoral, 10,000; British American, 11,200; Cunningham's 7,500; Carlisle, 7,000; Claxton, 7,600; Standard, 7,100; total, 67,500.

Last year seven canneries packed 61,139 cases.

Lowe Inlet—Lowe Inlet Packing Co., 9,000. This company last year put up 8,315 cases.

Namu Harbor—Namu Cannery, 3,000.

Rivers Inlet—Wannock Cannery, 10,000; British American Packing Company, 30,000; Good Hope Cannery, 10,000; total, 50,000.

Last year two canneries put up 39,451.

Alert Bay—S. A. Spencer, 5,500. The pack last year was 2,000.

The Danube brought down 9,000 cases, half of which were landed at Vancouver for shipment over the C. P. R. A large number of passengers came down, many of them having been employed in the canneries.

The steamer Muriel, belonging to the Lowe Inlet Cannery Company ran on the rocks in Granville channel a few weeks ago and sank. She was raised by the steamer Chieftain and taken to Lowe Inlet. She will be brought to Victoria for repairs.

The pleasure yacht Eleanor with the Slater party on board was passed in Queen Charlotte Sound. The weather was miserable. It was blowing and raining.

Prof. Prince, the fisheries commissioner, returned from a todr of the northern canneries.

Rev. Saugstad and wife, of the Bella Coola colony, came down.

NEW COAL MINE.

Mr. Jordan's Property at Wellington Being Rapidly Developed.

Wellington, Aug. 10.—Probably no other industry is so important to this province as that of coal mining. The opening up of new mines is therefore of general interest. The New Vancouver Coal Co. and the Dunsmuir Coal Co. have for years been the principal coal producers in the vicinity of Wellington and Nanaimo, but Mr. Dennis Jordan, of San Francisco, has with characteristic American enterprise been developing his property, and is now in a position to supply the people of Victoria and elsewhere with the best quality of Wellington coal. Mr. Jordan's property is situated upon the southwestern extremity of the Wellington coal basin, and is adjacent to the noted Wellington coal mines belonging to Messrs. Dunsmuir & Sons, forming part of the same basin of coal as that which they have worked and are still working, and which has produced some of the finest quality of coal that has been mined on the Pacific coast. The seam is an excellent one, and shows seven feet of coal on top, below which, after passing through two feet of shale, there is an additional two feet of coal. From surveys made by the engineer in charge, Mr. E. Priest, C.E., it is estimated that there is coal under the greater portion of Mr. Jordan's property. The track is already laid into the mine and the bunkers are built to receive the coal, which will be sent by rail from Wellington. A large gang of men are employed in building a railway from the mines to Nanoose Bay, a distance of about five miles, where by building wharves to deep water splendid shipping facilities are obtained. The level nature of the country through which the road will pass will make the building of it an easy matter. Mr. Jordan expects to have it completed in the course of a few months, and he will then be in a position to send his coal to all parts by water. Mr. Jordan, believing that nothing should be done to endanger the lives of those working underground, will employ no Chinamen in his mines. The agent at Victoria, Mr. Walker, will receive his first carload in the early part of next week.

THE COLONY COMMISSIONERS.

Brigadier Cliborn of the Salvation Army Arrives in the City on Saturday.

Interviewing Government Officials and Visiting the Farming Districts.

Brigadier Cliborn, one of the commissioners sent out by the Salvation Army to have a look at the country with a view to sending out colonists, arrived over from the mainland on Saturday evening. Col. Stitt, governor of the Home Colony, and Mr. Lawler, another of the commissioners, returned east from Vancouver. So far most of the Brigadier's time has been occupied in interviewing government officials and others regarding the conditions under which land can be taken up, and obtaining other particulars from them. But the commissioner goes further than this. It is his intention to visit the agricultural districts and obtain information from farmers and others. This is what he is doing this afternoon. In his words, negative information is just as useful to him as is positive information.

This morning Brigadier Cliborn had an interview with Hon. Col. Baker, minister of immigration, and Mr. Gore, the assistant commissioner of lands and works. He seemed to be well pleased with the result of the interview, but until he had visited the agricultural districts he could not say anything as to the prospects of an "Over the Sea Colony." For such a colony it would be necessary to obtain 100,000 acres of land with the option of obtaining more. The number of families that would be sent out would be almost illimitable. "Of course, in time," said the Brigadier, "agricultural or local colonies would be established in the province. These colonies are smaller than 'Over the Sea Colonies.'"

There seems to be little doubt from what the Brigadier said that one of the larger colonies would be established in Western Canada, but there seems to be a question whether the Northwest Territories or British Columbia will obtain it. "The British Columbia act regarding colonies," said the Brigadier in answer to a question, "seem to be the most favorable."

Brigadier Cliborn is gathering a lot of information, and will no doubt have a voluminous report to present to the colony commission. "There are many families," he said, "who are ready to come out, but it would be necessary to send a few at a time. Similar colonies have been established in Asia, Africa and Australia, and like the big colony in England are doing well."

It is not known how long Brigadier Cliborn will remain, but the officers and members of the local corps are giving him every opportunity to see the country and obtain information. Special services were held at the barracks yesterday on account of his visit.

RATE WAR REVIVED.

Pacific Coast Company Cuts the Excursion Rates on the Topeka.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company have revived the fight against the Willapa on the Alaska route. The Victoria agents have been instructed to issue round trip excursion tickets for the next trip of the City of Topeka on the 21st instant for $30 and it is probable that the Queen will make one more trip with the object of crowding the Willapa off the route. The latter on her last trip carried all the freight and passengers that she could accommodate.

The Queen, which left here last evening, had a large number of excursionists, including many prominent Americans. Besides the vice-president and party there were on board Congressman Robert W. Taylor of Ohio, George W. Smith of Illinois and Eugene F. Land of San Francisco. Warren G. Purdy, vice-president and treasurer of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, was also a passenger.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is fully on its merits."

THE VICE-PRESIDENT HERE.

That Distinguished American Spent Sunday Here with His Family.

Hon. Adlai Stevenson, Vice-President of the United States, spent yesterday in the city, accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson and the Misses Stevenson, and his brothers, W. W. and J. C. Stevenson. They arrived here from the east on Saturday night and took quarters at the Driard. The party left for Alaska last evening on the steamship Queen. The family are travelling very quietly, having lost one daughter recently and Miss Julia Stevenson is in very bad health. It is with the hope of improving her condition that the present trip is being made. They came west over the C. P. R. in Sir William Van Horne's private car, and had planned to go to Tacoma, but came here instead. Since the death of Miss Stevenson the Vice-President has drooped out of politics and has lived a very retired life. She was a favorite child and her death was a severe blow. He has declined to discuss public matters and has sought as much seclusion during the trip as possible.

The Vice-President was met by Gen. Roberts, U. S. consul, and Vice-Consul Ure, and yesterday was the guest of the former.

A good appetite and refreshing sleep are essential to health of mind and body, and these are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

JOTTINGS ABOUT AUSTRALIA.

Another Scheme to Exterminate Rabbits—Farmers and Free Trade.

Personalities in Politics—Reported Richness of the Mines at Coolgardie.

There is another man in New South Wales who has an idea that he thinks will, if carried out, exterminate the rabbits. His idea is a new one and has for its object the raising of an annual tax of 2s 6d per 100 to be levied on all sheep and £1 per 100 on large stock throughout the colony, and the money so raised to be paid out at the rate of ½d per scalp. According to his figures the amount of tax so raised annually would pay for the extermination of 41,000,000 rabbits.

At an important meeting of farmers held at Moama, on July 10, it was unanimously decided that, in the event of the proposed free trade policy before the electors becoming law, the premier be requested, through the member for the district, to open up negotiations with the Victorian premier showing the great gain to Victoria, and asking in return the abolition of the stock tax.

The Australian file last arrived contains news of the death of Lady Parkes, wife of Sir Henry Parkes, the veteran ex-premier of New South Wales, and generally called the father of that colony.

Even in Australia the politicians in the heat of a campaign are not above being personal. Sir Henry Parkes, at one of his meetings, refers to Premier Reid as having "a low disposition," an "intemperate, abusive tongue," "a brainless destroyer," a "public enemy," "one who pandered to the lowest classes of society," and other endearing terms. Mr. Reid, on the other hand, did not call Sir Henry any names in return.

Lacrosse is looking up in New South Wales, there being now several active clubs to promote the game.

The proof of the immense richness of the Great Boulder mine at Coolgardie has been furnished by a trial of ironstone conglomerate, in which an underground tank is being sunk. Recent visitors started panning off the debris from the excavation, which resulted in from 5dwt to 10dwt per ton obtained from every dish tried. The whole hill, the biggest in the district, is composed of this material, and is apparently saturated wiht gold. The Boulder crushing for the past few weeks is not announced. It is understood that the average is about the usual amount of gold produced, namely, about 1300 oz. M. Ray, a French director of Hannan's Reward, has returned after inspection, and is highly delighted with the mines. His Great Boulders were sold in London at 25s before he reached Albany, but he is satisfied that he will largely increase his immense fortune by Hannan's Reward, which is very much richer than ever the manager anticipated. He is convinced that the immense lode within the latter runs right through the Great Boulder mine.

A splendid lot of stone from the 100 foot level has been sent in from the Wealth of Nations mine. The reef is 21 feet wide, and is rich in gold.

Another report says: The Great Boulder crushing for eight days' work gave a return of 1227 oz. from 157 tons. Repairs to the pump are completed, and it is expected that the next crushing will be much heavier. At Hannan's Reward mine the drive is 100 feet, and a crosscut has been made east. The last 20 feet passed through is the richest yet met with. The lode is improving as it goes on. It is now shining with gold in places. The Mount Charlotte is sinking in what is believed to be the hanging-wall. In the Hannan's Reward lode, after going 20 feet or 30 feet deeper, a crosscut will be put in to open it up.

T. Elliott has returned from the Pendini rush. He was one of the first on the ground after the prospector, and brought in 35oz. of gold, being the result of one man's work for seven days. About 500 men are on the ground, and nearly all are doing well. Elliott says that the country looks very promising, but he advises men not to rush to the spot. A fine slug, weighing 5oz. 9dwt., was found this morning on Fly Flat, Coolgardie. Machinery for the White Feather United is all delivered, and is rapidly being placed in position. The machinery comprises 10 head of stamps and winding gear. The weather is very stormy, with a little rain.

The success of Waihi has given a great impetus to mining on the Thames, its return for four weeks ending June 29 being 2,590 tons stone for £9,152 of bullion. The Martha reef is simply immense.

THE KOHINOOR.

England's Great Diamond Has a Somewhat Tragic History.

Nearly all of the great diamonds of the world have had romantic histories, but none of them approaches in this respect the Kohinoor, now among the Royal jewels in England. It is known to have been the property of the Rajahs of Malwa nearly 1,000 years ago. In 1304 the Sultan Aladdin—himself the original of the "Arabian Nights" hero—overcame the then rajah in battle, and captured the gem.

Subsequently, however, he restored it to the Rajah, in the hands of whose descendants it remained until the rise of the Mogul dynasty.

Mohammed Shah, of that dynasty, was on the throne of Hindostan when his country was invaded, and his capital city, Delhi, was taken by the Persian, Nadir Shah. The conqueror confiscated all the jewels in the Delhi treasury, but the already famous Kohinoor was missing.

A woman of Mohammed's harem gave information that the Emperor wore the stone concealed in his turban, and Nadir finally secured it by a clever ruse, offering to exchange turbans with Mohammed. At the death of Nadir the gem became the property of his son and successor, Shah Rokh, who was soon after overthrown by an usurper, Aga Mohammed.

Aga Mohammed put Shah Rokh to the torture, to make him give up the stone, but Shah Rokh would not, even when his eyes were put out with knives. Finally Aga Mohammed ordered his victim's head to be shaved and encircled with a diadem of paste, thus making a receptacle, into which boiling oil was poured.

But even this did not induce Shah Rokah to give up the Kohinoor. He died soon after of his injuries, and gave the stone to Ahmed Shah, founder of the Afghan Empire, who had come to his assistance.

The Kohinoor descended from Ahmed Shah to his grandson, Shah Zaman. The latter was deposed from the throne and had his eyes put out by his brother, Shah Shuja. Shah Zaman was shut up in a solitary prison cell for many years, where he concealed the gem in the plaster of the wall.

By an accident an officer of the guard scratched his hand on one of the angles of the diamond, which projected almost imperceptibly, and this led to its discovery. So Shah Shuja got the stone, but pretty soon he himself was deposed, and his eyes were put out by his next brother, Shah Mahmud.

He withdrew to the court of Runjit Singh for protection, but Runjit wanted the Kohinoor, and persecuted Shuja and starved Shuja's wife until he got it. Runjit had it set in a bracelet.

It was confiscated by the British at the close of the great Indian mutiny, and was sent to England. It weighed 186 carats, and was reduced to 106 carats by cutting. Though not of the very finest water, having a slightly grayish tinge, it is valued at $600,000.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

COSTLY CHINA.

How Much the Czarina of Russia Pays for Her Dishes.

Perhaps the largest residence in the world is the winter palace at St. Petersburg, Russia. It has 700 rooms, many of them of enormous size, and some so large that the White House at Washington could be erected in them, portico and all. It is said that 5,000 soldiers have been sheltered under its roof. The store rooms of the winter palace are filled with the china of the Russian Czars as far back as Catharine the Great, and here a woman collector was able to obtain samples by purchasing them off the attendants who brought the pieces to her hotel one at a time for several days afterward, and demanded only moderate prices—not more than some plates would be worth at a shop without considering the value of association.

The imperial china is all of Russian manufacture, and does not equal in quality nor in lustre the product of Austria or Germany or France. It is plain and coarse, and the decorations are not very artistic, although there is in the winter palace a world-famous table service of solid silver overlaid with gold that will furnish a banquet of 500 covers. It dates back to the time of the crazy Emperor Paul, who was the son of Catherine the Great.

The plates used by the Czars are larger than the ordinary size. Those of Catharine were ornamented with unconventional designs of blue and gold, and bore the imperial crest in the centre. Nicholas, "the Iron Czar," as he was called, used enormous plates and cups and saucers, of the commonest china, heavy and coarse, which were also decorated with blue, and in the centre bore his initial, with a crown and cross. The china of Alexander II., who was assassinated by the Nihilists, was a little better in quality, but of similar design, only it bore the initial A, and an eagle with outspread wings. That of the present Czar is of the same pattern, and bears the same initial with the distinctive III., under the A, to indicate that it belongs to the third monarch of that name.

It is said that the private china in the smaller palaces is very different, and of much better quality. It was imported by the Empress from England, but strangers are not allowed to visit them, and it is impossible to obtain a sample.

—Hall's Hair Renewer renders the hair lustrous and silken, gives it an even color, and enables women to put it up in a great variety of styles.

IN CANNING TIME.

A Simple Device for Doing Up Fruit That Yields Good Results.

The simplest canning apparatus is undoubtedly the best. In these days of many patents, when the market is filled with various elaborate devices for canning purposes, it it pleasant to know that the very best results may be obtained with a simple wooden rack fitted into a flat-bottomed clothes boiler. A good boiler of this kind of heavy tin, large enough to hold a dozen and a half cans, may now be purchased for $1.50. Any amateur carpenter may easily make the rack out of pine strips a half inch thick and an inch and a half wide.

The jars are filled with fruit and covered with the syrup made from their juice in the case of soft fruit like berries, and of water in the proportion of five pints of water to seven pounds of sugar in the case of harder fruits, like peaches, pears and plums. The covers are screwed down without a rubber, and the jars set on this rack and separated by kitchen towels. They are immersed up to their necks in warm water, which is allowed to come to the boiling point. In the case of delicate fruits like strawberries, the water is allowed to boil but two minutes around the jars. In the case of pine apples it boils five minutes, in case of peaches, pears and plums and most other fruits twenty minutes. As soon as the time of boiling is over, the fruit is removed at once, jar by jar, the cover is taken off, the jar is filled to the brim with fresh boiling syrup to take the place of that which has been absorbed, the rubber is put on and the cover is screwed up as tight as possible. When the jars are cold the covers are tightened again, and each jar is wrapped in paper to exclude all its contents from the light and is set away in a preserve closet. The closet should be in a place where the uniform temperature is as near to 50 degrees as possible. A dry cellar is usually the best place.—Philadelphia Times.

PORT HAMMOND.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Port Hammond, Aug. 10.—The weather still keeps very hot and dry and the farmers are wishing for a shower.

Mr. Peter D. McTavish, who so creditably passed the teachers' examination, has been appointed teacher at the South Lillooet school. This is the right man in the right place.

Mr. James Tagg, Provincial Grand Master of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows, passed through here to-day homeward bound to Victoria, after having visited the Mainland lodges. An immense meeting was held at Chilliwack on Tuesday evening, at which Bro. Tagg was present. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. After the close of the meeting an adjournment was made to the Queen's Hotel, where a banquet was held. Bro. S. D. McTavish, V.G., and Bro. D. N. McTavish formed a delegation from Loyal Fraser Valley Lodge, and accompanied the Provincial Grand Master to Chilliwack.

BELLA COOLA.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Bella Coola, July 30.—On July 20 a cattle owner from the interior visited Bella Coola. He was from the vicinity of Tatlo lake. He offers to sell cattle at a very reasonable price, and deliver them to the settlers in Bella Coola, which is a great encouragement to the settlers, who will be saved the risk and expense of having the cattle shipped by steamer in here. He reports his country to be very nice and well adopted for cattle raising. He also informs us that with little expense a good trail can be made to connect the Bella Coola valley with that country. Four or five hundred dollars would be quite sufficient. A connection between these places will certainly be of great value to the settlers of Bella Coola. It is desirable that efforts in that direction should be made in the near future.

The weather is very nice. The health of the settlers is good. Mr. P. J. Leich has been rather unwell, but is now quite strong again.

KAMLOOPS.

Inland Sentinel.

Fifteen cars of cattle for England left Ashcroft at noon to-day. They are shipped by Birchall & Howie, of Manitoba.

Douglas Lake Cattle Company shipped five cars of cattle, and J. R. Hull & Co. one car, to the coast on Tuesday.

The clouds of grasshoppers so prevalent a week ago have nearly all disappeared and danger of loss through them is almost passed away.

Mr. J. H. Russell on Wednesday brought in a quantity of gold, got out of his claim on Tranquille creek. He has three men sluicing.

Work still goes on on the Mountain Whale, Adams Lake district, with a fine showing of ore. All the assessment work will be done this season, so that a crown grant may be taken out.

Returns from tests made by the cyanide process upon ore from the Homestake mine have been received by the company. These have been very satisfactory, from 75 to 91 pr cent. of the assay value of the ore being saved. A party of the owners will visit the property shortly with a view to putting in the required plant as soon as possible.

Mr. J. B. Latremouille and others returned early in the week from a search for gold bearing ground about 20 miles up Tranquille Creek. They came upon some which had not been worked, but near which good prospects and some large nuggets had at one time been procured. He has obtained a lease of the benches and will have it thoroughly prospected.

Mr. J. F. Smith and party left early on Wednesday morning for Tete Jeune Cache. There were eight men and 24 horses in all. A ton and a half of provisions were sent up last Saturday to Louis Creek and the horses will be packed. The trip is expected to take about a month. A quantity of mica will be brought down and other work done. During the past year there have been several inquiries about the property.

WELLINGTON.

Wellington Enterprise.

Mr. F. G. Richards, of Victoria, gave us a call this week. He is here in the interests of some Victoria gentlemen, amongst whom is Mr. H. Croft, who propose to operate a system of water works here, provided they meet with any encouragement. The scheme is as follows, viz.: To pipe the water from a lake in Mount Benson, a distance of about five miles, using a 12-inch main of the best steel. The fall is about 300 feet, which will give a water pressure on the townsite of nearly 100 pounds per square inch. Estimating the population of this vicinity at 2,500, the mains will be able to supply 70 gallons per day per capita at the rate of 25c. per 1,000 gallons. The proposed capital is to be $40,000, to be divided into 2,000 shares at $20 per share, paid up. There is already 50 per cent. of the stock subscribed in Victoria. As soon as the rest of the stock is taken up, the company is prepared to at once proceed with the work. The exclusive right to run pipes from this lake has already been obtained from the Messrs. Dunsmuir. The cost of the operation of the works is practically nil, and consequently ought to return a very handsome profit to the investor.

COMOX.

Union News.

Mr. S. Leiser has arranged to erect a store building and boarding house at Union Bay. The building will be two story, the boarding house of sufficient capacity to accommodate about 80 boarders. The order for lumber is already in the mill and work will commence on these buildings immediately. When completed Mr. A. Lindsay will have charge of them.

In this district the crops will be large except upon the uplands, where the drouth has affected them.

NANAIMO.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Nanaimo, Aug. 12.—The annual meeting of the medical committee of the employees of the N. V. C. Co.'s mines took place Friday afternoon. The committee in the report showed there had been 42 accidents during the year, three of which proved fatal. The medical officer in his report showed there had been 6,156 patients visited and 5,079 came to the office, making a total of cases for the year of 11,285. The death rate was 6.5 per thousand.

Balance sheet for the year ending May 31st, 1895:

On motion of N. McCuish, the financial statement was adopted.

The recommendations of the committee being considered, that providing for collections only on approval of the committee was, after some discussion, tabled, and that providing for an annual levy for the hospital funds was amended, on motion of Tully Boyce, so as to provide for taking up a voluntary subscription annually and adopted.

The election of a new relief committee followed, resulting in the choice of D. Stewart, of Protection shaft; N. McCuish, of No. 5 shaft, and Ellis Rogers, of No. 1 shaft.

Votes of thanks was tendered the retiring committee, and the meeting adjourned.

Comox is to have an agricultural and horticultural show this year. The event is to take place on October 3rd, and a large excursion is being arranged from this city on that date.

It has been proposed by the officers of H.M.S. Nymphe to give a minstrel concert in this city on the return of the warship. Among the crew are a few very clever minstrels, and no doubt the event will prove very enjoyable. Further particulars will be made known later.

The New V. C. Co. paid out to their employees on Saturday a little over $75,000.

ROSSLAND.

(Rossland Miner.)

The price given for the Spotted Tail and Ida was $3000 cash.

Mike Conway is getting some nice ore on the Alabama, a fraction which adjoins the Sunset.

The shaft on the Evening Star, which lies between the Iron Horse and the North Star, is reported to be full of ore, which samples $66 to the ton.

Building operations are as active as ever in Rossland, and the saw mills have the greatest difficulty in keeping pace with the demands for lumber.

The report of the ore shipments is demoralized this week. The shipments have been as large as usual, but at the hour of publication the returns were not to hand. The total shipments for July may be put down at 3000 tons, of a value of $140,000.

J. Smith, who owned the ferry at Northport, fell into the Columbia river on Thursday and was drowned. He bought the ferry and had operated it since 1892. It was a losing concern until the mines began to ship ore over the wagon road. But since then it has been valuable.

Ben Finnell and partners and some other prospectors, who are interested on the headwaters of Murphy and Sullivan creeks, are about to cut a trail straight through from Rossland north. Ben's group of claims are looking fine. The last assay on the ore gave a return of $12.50 in gold to the ton. It is about 21 miles to these discoveries round by Trail, whereas by going from Rossland the distance cannot be much over nine miles.

Mike Flaherty's Gold Star, situated three miles north of the White Elephant, is a claim that has been overlooked in the general stampede to the south belt during the past month. An open cut runs in on the ledge for about 15 feet and shows a face of nearly solid ore, a little quartz gangue being mixed through it. Assays from a trace to $17.50 in gold have been found. Pretty good from top rock. A shaft will be started.

The bottom of the main drift on the Columbia is all solid ore, and has been so for several feet, indicating that the top of the long sought ore chute has been struck. The breast and back of the tunnel show about three feet of dark arsenical iron, for which assays ranging all the way from $30 to $103 in gold have been obtained. A wagon road, which will connect with the Kootenay road, will be built, and it is the intention of the company to market the product as it is mined.

The Rossland townsite has been divided up. The property was divided into three lists and those interested shook dice for first choice. Jimmie Anderson took the pot with a full house. John R. Cook came next and Ross Thompson was low man. J. F. Ritchie, E. Johnson and J. Anderson are interested in one-third. J. R. Cook owns another and Ross Thompson another. Some of the property is now on the market again.

The ways of the customs authorities are mysterious. They make new rules in some quiet corner, and then leave the unfortunate shipper to find them out by infringing them. One butcher in Rossland had his sheep inspected by a veterinary surgeon at large expense, the other, about the same time, had his inspected by the customs' officer at a nominal price. Butcher number one thought there was something to be saved there. Meantime up crops a new rule of the department unknown to the public, and his sheep are seized and himself put to considerable inconvenience and loss. When the Czar of Russia issues a ukase he publishes it; when the customs authorities of Canada invent something sweet in exasperating restrictions, they keep it quiet until they can spring it on some unfortunate shippers.

GOLDEN.

Golden Era.

A very serious bush fire has been raging this week in the neighborhod of Canyon Creek and within the timber limits of the Golden Lumber Co. The fire has really been burning for several weeks past, but as it did not amount to anything no attention was paid to it. On Tuesday afternoon, however, it assumed vast proportions and a large quantity of valuable timber was destroyed. A strong wind started to blow about 9 o'clock Tuesday night, driving the fire back, which with the heavy rain that followed brought the fire, to a certain extent, into subjection.

REVELSTOKE.

Kootenay Mail.

The navigation of the Columbia river above Revelstoke is a live question with the people who are engaged in developing the mineral resources of the Big Bend country. Steamboat communication would be of incalculable assistance to them by reducing the cost of getting in supplies to the minimum, and facilitate the getting out of ore, as, beyond doubt, there will be shipping mines on both Carnes and McCulloch Creeks within a year. The small canyon just above Revelstoke could be improved at slight cost, and from Death Rapids to Boat Encampment—a distance of 60 miles—it is easy navigation. This improvement would not only assist mineral development, but along the Canoe river there is a large area of good agricultural land which would be brought within easy reach of the mines of West Kootenay.

LARDEAU.

Kootenay Mail.

Prospecting is in full swing up Fish Creek, and some rich strikes have been reported on Boyd Creek not far from the Glengarry group.

L. Arthur and Jack McDonald have arrived in from Glengarry group with some splendid samples taken from the claims Glengarry, Prince Edward and Jim Dandy.

T. Downing and B. Ramey have finished assessment work on the Black Bear claim on Poole Creek; they have a good showing and the rock ought to run considerable in gold. Assessment work has also been done on the Wagner group on Poole Creek. The claim Trapper in this group looks very promising and shows some high grade ore.

The Kootenay Gold Mining Co. are pushing work on the Sable Creek claims, more men having been taken on a few days ago. These claims go high in gold, silver and copper and there is every chance of this property turning out something big before long.

Tom McRae has sold his Big Bear claim—extension on Glengarry—to some parties in Winnipeg.

Nine claims have been recorded in this district within the past week and chances are that quite a few more will be in before the month of August is out.

TROUT LAKE CITY.

Fred C. Campbell, of the Badshot, is in town for a supply of provisions. His property still keeps improving on developing. According to his smelter returns his ore will give him a net profit of $240 a ton.

Chas. Holden, Pete Walker and a crew of men are working on the True Fissure mine. Mr. Cassells, who has a bond on this mine, is expected in shortly to do more extensive works.

Hugh McPherson and A. J. Bettles are at work on the Old Sonoma. W. J. Hoar, with a crew of men, is doing assessment work on the C.P.R. group. According to latest reports these properties are showing up very encouragingly.

The district is evidently going to be well prospected this season, judging from the number of prospectors coming in. Some new strikes have been made lately on the Duncan slope, of an extremely high grade of silver-lead ore.

ROWDYISM AT WESTMINSTER

Victoria Lacrosse Players Attacked by a Mob at the Royal City on Saturday.

Nanaimo Wins From the Amities in League Baseball Match—Other Events.

The Triangle Lacrosse club went to New Westminster to play on Saturday last, but they had a weak team, W. Cullin being out of the city and Cusack refusing to go at the last moment. This necessitated the placing of S. Norman in goal and A. Finlayson and W. Stephen on the defense field, with D. Sinclair at centre. J. Sprinkling played on the home field. The match resulted in the Westminster team winning four straight goals, after which the outsiders took a hand in the game and a general fight ensued, and the Triangles left the field. There was no excuse for the roughness of the Westminster players or the interference from the outsiders, for the Triangles did not expect to win from the start. The games were scored by McQuarrie, Ryal, Oddy and Cambridge in six, eleven, twenty-one and four minutes respectively. All the juniors, and in fact all the Victoria players, played well under the circumstances, but Westminster had much the stronger team, being strengthened by H. Ryal and J. Lewis. The Triangles did not have a supporter with them, barring G. E. Brown, the secretary of the club.

Early in the match F. Cullin and Cheyne came together and a slight scuffle arose, for which the referee warned both players. From this out Cheyne started in to abuse Cullin in the worst possible manner, calling him all the vile names he could lay his tongue on. Not content with this, he (Cheyne), who was playing at point, told Galbraith to fall back and play in his position and he would go out and play on Cullin and lay him out, which he did very soon afterwards by hitting him a most deliberate blow on the head, causing a gash about two inches long. Cullin, of course, could not go on playing, and was carried to the dressing room. After time had been called, W. M. Wood, school teacher, of Mission City, late of Chilliwack, who was umpiring at that end of the field, spoke up and said that it was a "very plain and deliberate blow of Cheyne's." No sooner had Mr. Wood uttered these words than J. Gow, the field captain of the Westminster club, rushed up and hit him a blow in the face and told him to keep his mouth shut. Cheyne was ruled off for the match, and play began again. It was but a very few minutes after this that Galbraith, who is one of Cheyne's understudies, received an accidental tap on the head from Ditchburn. Galbraith immediately turned round, and, with the stick in both hands, made a vicious blow at Ditchburn's head, which, had that player not dodged in time to escape the blow, the chances are that his lacrosse days would have been ended. Then began a torrent of abuse from Galbraith, who followed Cheyne's tactics to the letter, using all the worst language he could lay his tongue to. It was during the progress of the fifth game that the trouble from the spectators took place. Galbraith had the ball and Finlayson went out and checked him, making him lose the ball. Galbraith immediately dropped his stick and started to punch Finlayson, who retaliated in kind, and had these two players been left to themselves Finlayson was liable to come off with first honors, although much the smaller man of the two. It was here that Mr. Leamy, the president of the Westminster club, jumped over the fence, followed by a large crowd of other Westminster people, and dealt Finlayson two or three severe blows with his walking stick, which action was actually applauded by some of the players. This ended in a general mix-up of players and spectators. Mr. Leamy received a good blow from a lacrosse stick, which he rightly deserved. The Triangles here decided that they would not play any more owing to the treatment of the Westminster club and their supporters. The action of Mr. Leamy, had he been an ordinary outsider, would have been bad enough, but being the president of the Westminster club, one of the council of the association and the man who took such rigid steps against Morton when he tried to have that player brought up for attempt at murder, was most reprehensible.

The treatment that the Triangles received at the hands of the New Westminster club and some of their supporters on Saturday has had a most damaging effect on the good standing of the Westminster club in the estimation of quite a few of the fair minded citizens of Westminster. One of the officials of that club told some of the Victoria players that many ladies had said they would never go to see the New Westminster club play again, that they were wholly to blame, and that they need never talk about other clubs not giving them fair treatment.

The teams were: Triangles—S. Norman, goal; Coldwell, point; Belfrey, cover point; C. Cullin, A. Finlayson, W. Stevens, defence field; D. Sinclair, centre; Tite, Sprinkling, Paterson, home field; F. Cullin, outside home; Ditchburn, inside home; R. H. Clark, field captain.

Westminster—Peele, goal; Cheyne, point; Galbraith, cover point; Snell, Campbell, Peele, defence field; P. Peele, centre; McQuarrie, Oddy and Ryal, home field; Cambridge, outside home; B. Peele, inside home; J. Gow, field captain. E. A. Quigley was referee and W. M. Wood and J. A. Whyte acted as umpires.

The Triangles did not have a spare man, and when Cullin was knocked out Westminster would not lay a man off, saying that the Triangles should have brought another player. The gash on Cullin's head required four stitches.

CANOEING.

CLUB SERIES.

The third of the regular sailing races of the Victoria Canoe Club was sailed on Saturday afternoon in a heavy southwest wind, which gradually shifted to the southward. There were five starters: Wm. Christie's Electra, F. G. White's Lorna, W. T. Gore's Colleen, A. S. Gore and C. A. Godson. Mr. Godson had a capsize just before the start and had to sail with a strange suit of sails. A pretty start was made at 3.30 p.m., all the canoes getting away well. At Laurel Point A. S. Gore retired, the cause being the partial filling of his canoe in a heavy squall. Mr. Godson gave it up at the first buoy, leaving three in the race. The Colleen turned the buoy first and squared away for the turning yacht at the club house, before heavy squalls. She was overhauled by the Electra, which turned the second point ahead. It was then a very exciting race between the Electra and the Colleen, the latter again turning the outer buoy ahead on the second round. She was, however, again overhauled by the Electra and when inside Laurel Point both canoes were neck and neck and it was apparently anybody's race. At the point both canoes were struck by a fierce squall. Christie let his sheets fly, but the Colleen was caught and her lee gunwale went under, forcing her retirement and spoiling a very pretty race. The Electra was then practically alone, the Lorna being far astern, so her commander bailed out and jogged round the course a third time, winning. The Lorna was the only leeboard canoe in the race, and Mr. White sailed her pluckily around the entire course. The standing of the canoes now is:

| | Won. | Lost. |
|---|---|---|
| W. Christie's Electra | 2 | 1 |
| C. A. Godson | 1 | 2 |
| F. G. White's Lorna | 0 | 3 |
| W. S. Gore's Colleen | 0 | 3 |
| A. S. Gore | 0 | 3 |

THE OAR.

SUCCESSFUL REGATTA.

At the Arm on Saturday the Y. M. C. A. held a very successful regatta. There was a large attendance and much interest was taken in the various events. Mr. W. Scott acted as umpire and Messrs. McCrossan and Carter as starters. The prizes will be presented by Mrs. Carter at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Wednesday evening. The results of the races follow:

Double sculls—W. Peden and H. Jackman, with W. Grant, coxswain, won; E. Robinson and W. Farmer, 2nd.

Tandem canoe—F. Norris and W. Adams won.

One hundred yards swimming race—P. R. Daniels won; F. Vigor, 2nd.

Four blade canoe—W. Adams, A. Davey, J. Gaudin and F. Norris won.

Duck hunt—W. Adams won.

BASEBALL.

MAPLE LEAVES V. FERNWOODS.

The match between the above teams Saturday afternoon resulted in a victory for the Fernwoods. For the winners the battery work of Buckett and Winsby was excellent, while the field accepted most chances. Barnswell pitched a good game for the Maple Leaves. Following is the score:

| | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Maple Leaves | 0 | 1 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 5 | 0 | 0 | 0 | —9 |
| Fernwoods | 5 | 3 | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 6 | 0 | * | —17 |

George Smith was an impartial referee.

SOUND GAMES.

Multnomah has won the championship of the Pacific Northwest Amateur League, including teams from Washington and Oregon. On Saturday they defeated Portland by 9 to 4. Tacoma, against whom Victoria plays on Saturday next, defeated Seattle by 22 to 3.

WIN FOR NANAIMO.

The Amities were badly beaten in their match against Nanaimo on Saturday, the latter winning by a score of 16 to 9. King, for Nanaimo, pitched a faultless game, while Lenfesty seemed to have a day off. The umpire was decidedly partial, giving the Nanaimo batsmen the best of it. This, of course, discouraged Lenfesty and also Franklin, who replaced Lenfesty in the sixth innings. The teams will now play the best two out of three games to decide the championship.

Franklin has left the Amities to go to Kamloops. He and George Borthwick, the Amities' old catcher, will form the nucleus of a Kamloops team.

YACHTING.

HALF RATERS.

Three yachts, the Deborah, Plunger and Viola, started in Saturday's race for half raters. There was a splendid breeze and the race was a good one. The Plunger finished first, the Viola second and the Deborah third.

THE NIAGARA WINS.

Southampton, Aug. 12.—The Niagara won the race for 20 raters and Lord Dunraven's challenge cup to-day. Following were the times of the yachts at the finish: Nigara, 3.20.33; Audrey, 3.26.04; Luna, 3.28.05; Vineta, 3.38.32.

LACROSSE.

JUNIOR MATCH.

At Oak Bay Park on Saturday the Stars defeated the Bays by three games to one. The poor condition of the grounds prevented good lacrosse, but the boys worked hard and gave a good exhibition of the national game. W. Wolfenden took the first game for the Bays in three minutes, R. Crook the second game for the Stars in 15 minutes, Thoburn the third game for the Stars in 8 minutes and T. Norman the fourth for the Stars in 30 minutes.

CRICKET.

ALBION C. C. V. BARRACKS C. C.

The match between the above clubs resulted in a win for the Albions by 72 runs. The Albions scored 157 runs for 5 wickets, and declared their innings closed, Green making 67 by a brilliant display of cricket. Anderson, Schwengers and Booth with 28, 22, and 15 respectively, also batted well for their runs. The Barracks eleven only succeeded in putting together 85 runs in their first innings, of which number Glover made 45 in his usual good form. In their second venture the Barracks had 4 wickets down for 59 when time was called.

MISCELLANEOUS.

H. Wille won the Rambler racer raffled on Saturday evening.

Neither the Victoria nor Nanaimo men who entered for the bicycle races at Vancouver on Saturday put in an appearance and the local men had it all their own way.

E. C. Johnson, of Snohomish, Wash., a well known horseman, has arrived here with a string of fast ones, which he will put into training at Stanley Park for the races at the Fall Exhibition.

YOU EAT

Sometimes. Of course you do. Perhaps you may be interested in knowing that at the

New York Restaurant

Which has just been re-opened under the management of

J. DORN,

You can obtain the finest dinner which is served in the city. Don't die of dyspepsia, the result of ill-cooked food, but call at the NEW YORK and be happy. Meals at all hours. Open day and night. Remember,

The New York,
67 and 69 Yates Street.

Merit Speaks.

You cannot hide a light under a bushel, nor can you keep from the public the merits of the

Heintzman and Nordheimer Pianos.

THEY SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES
TRUMPET TONGUED.
PEOPLE PRAISE THEM.
HEARERS LIKE THEM.
AND WE GUARANTEE THEM.
